

When you understand that you are part of a larger community, great things can happen. The articles below may reshape how you view your estate plan and come to see its role in something bigger than yourself. Your plans have the power to create change—for your loved ones and your most important causes.

The Carroll family recently partnered with the Foundation to create change through the Cathy Carroll Memorial Fund. This memorial fund for beloved, long-time AMCP member Cathy A. Carroll, PhD, MBA, BS Pharm honors her legacy. Funds raised will be used to support future pharmacists, especially those with a passion for pursuing managed care careers in health and economics outcomes research (HEOR) or industry, and other AMCP Foundation purposes.

We hope that the resources provided in this issue, and the inspiring example set by the Carroll family, will help you plan your legacy and prioritize what's important to you.
